Action Line is your service, solving your problems, getting your answers, cutting red tape and standing up for your rights. To get action, write ACTION LINE, Box 230, Long Beach, Calif. 90801, or dial 432-3451 between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m., or 5 p.m. and 9 p.m., Monday through Friday

Q. I'm interested in the musical instrument known as the Jew's Harp. Can Action Line tell me about it and where I can find one? K. K., Cypress.

A. Yes. A Jew's Harp is a simple percussion instrument which has been popular for centuries. It consists of a slender tongue of steel riveted at one end to the base of a pear-shaped steel frame. The other end vibrates when played while the branches of the frame are pressed against the teeth. Origin of the instrument is uncertain—some say it was originally called a "jaw's harp." ACTION LINE is sending you the instrument so you can try it for yourself. Maybe you'll top the record performance by a German who played 16 at once, and left his audience speechless.

Q. When I see Signal Hill, I often wonder what that area was like before they struck oil. I've seen evidence of what must have been an expensive residential district. Can you tell me where I might find some information on the history of Signal Hill? Mrs. N. G., Signal Hill.

A. Both the Signal Hill and the Long Beach public libraries have books, papers and clippings about the growth of Long Beach and Signal Hill, and ACTION LINE is sending you some news articles and pictures. Long before the Spanish explorers landed off San Pedro, the Puva Indians maintained a camp near Alamitos Bay and used Signal Hill as a look-out and message transmission site — hence its name. Much later, Manuel Nieto, a retired Spanish Army officer, was granted the wide, grassy land which is now Long Beach and Signal Hill. In the 1860s, the area was divided up into two large ranchos, and Signal Hill became part of John Temple's Rancho Los Cerritos. The hill was subdivided in the early 1900s, and luxurious homes were planned. One, built by Andrew Pala in 1919, still stands with its stone lions guarding the front walkway. Before oil was struck in 1921, the hill was the site of many small truck farms—which were soon deserted when the oil wells sprouted up.

Q. I have a deep scar tissue on my eyelid. Plastic surgeons don't want to work on it, because they are afraid an operation would impair my vision. I've tried certain cosmetics, but the results were nil. I've heard there is some sort of skin-like material that can cover a scar which the film industry has been using. Can ACTION LINE tell me what it is and where I could get it? T. O., Los Angeles.

A. The material is called fish or seal skin, and it is made from the lining of a calf's stomach. ACTION LINE will send a sample to you. The skin is attached with an adhesive and covered with makeup, explains Nick Marcelino, assistant makeup department head at Universal Studios. Other alternatives might be a derma wax, used by morticians to cover wounds; a liquid surgical adhesive which should be applied by a professional; a scar covering cream; and a sponge-like substance applied by prosthetic experts specializing in artificial facial features.

Q. I'm like a lot of people who want to quit smoking but don't have the will power. So I answered an ad I got through the mail for some pills containing lobeline sulfate that are supposed to help you quit but now I'm leery about taking them. Are they safe? Mrs. G., Bellflower.

A. The tiny quantity of lobeline sulfate in your pills should be quite harmless—and probably equally ineffective—says L. Lawrence Warden of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Lobeline sulfate is used as a substitute for nicotine and, hopefully, will ease the nicotine withdrawal pangs. Critics, however, point out that the smoking habit is more complicated than simply a physical addiction to nicotine—the pleasure of drawing smoke into your lungs and the mechanical habit of keeping your hands occupied with cigarettes and matches, for instance. Hypnosis by qualified psychiatrists has had some apparent success and the Seventh Day Adventists have a group therapy program which has been praised. But Warden says the best way to kick it is just tough it out.

Q. How many applications were received by the California Department of Fish and Game for the Antlerless Deer Hunt No. 52 scheduled for Sept. 2-24? M.S., Bellflower.

A. ACTION LINE hunted for your answer in the Sacramento licensing office of the Fish and Game Department. Some 506 of the 767 applicants bagged permits in the August 11th drawing, explains John Keefe, assistant licensing officer. The permits allow hunters to bag a buck and one antlerless deer in Riverside County. "We issue the permits when we get a surplus of deer in an area which cannot support them," says warden Ed Vernon.

Q. I was thumbing through some old television logs recently and I saw that channel 40 had a program Aug. 12 entitled "New Water for a Thirsty World." My husband has written a book by the same name, and I wonder if this TV show had anything to do with it? H. J. S., Long Beach.

A. "New Water for a Thirsty World," a production by the U. S. Office of Saline Water, has the same name as your husband's book by pure coincidence. Pat O'Mera, information officer for the office, says the film was produced from information gained by government research into the field of de-salting sea water. "No outside source was used," he says. The movie, sold to TV stations by a distributor, traces the development of the desalination program and explains its importance to a dry world.

SOUND OFF!

Why are there no rent controls? Retired people can hardly live, as it is, with the high costs of food, without rents being constantly raised by syndicates who are buying low-rental property in Long Beach and elsewhere, then charging exorbitant rentals. Recently, we were forced out of a downtown Long Beach apartment building because the rent on single apartments was raised from $60 to $80 a month and on one-bedroom apartments from $80 to $102.50. Yet this building was never kept up to par or worth more than we paid. If these high rentals continue, soon all of us will have to go on welfare to live. The syndicates come in, buy the buildings, then raise the rents without making any improvements. Property should be assessed for what it is worth and rentals charged accordingly. Syndicates soaking people in low-income brackets should be exposed. M. L., Long Beach.

MUGGY 100 DEGREES--MORE TODAY

L.B. Shares Nation's 'Hottest' Title

By VINT MADER

Long Beach airport recorded a muggy maximum temperature of 100 degrees Friday, ranking with four other Southern California points as the hottest in the nation.

The continuing Southland heat wave, featuring scattered lightningstorms and sudden thundershowers, caused sporadic power cutoffs, flash flooding and occasional fierce winds.

Outlook today in the Long Beach area is for more hot and muggy weather and occasional thundershowers, with a high of about 95, the U.S. forecaster said.

However, he foresaw some relief in the offing as he prophesied "a few degrees cooler" for Sunday.

Considerable cloudiness will also continue throughout today, he said, but that is also expected to clear by Sunday.

Downtown Long Beach recorded a high of 96 Friday and splatters of rain were observed at scattered locations throughout the day, though the city was hit by heavy showers and electrical disturbances only in the early morning.

The heavy disturbances struck the Long Beach area about 2:45 a.m., bringing the city 16 of an inch of rain in a brief, torrential downpour. The storm knocked out electrical power for a short time in scattered sections of Long Beach and Lakewood.

With Friday's heat went the continuing discomfort of high humidity readings.

At 9:30 p.m., Long Beach airport's thermometer still read 83 degrees and the relative humidity was up to 55 per cent.

At 1 p.m., when the airport gauge reached its high of 100 degrees, the relative humidity was 30 per cent.

The only other locations in the U.S. that reached a temperature of 100 were El Toro Marine Corps Air Station, Los Angeles civic center, Fresno and Paso Robles, the Weather Bureau reported.

In downtown Los Angeles early Friday night, a sudden electrical storm knocked out power for 17 minutes.

At the same time power was out for a longer duration in other parts of the county; at some locations in the San Gabriel Valley the thunder and lightning was accompanied by downpours that sent flash flooding two feet deep through streets. In the Los Angeles downtown waters flooded over curbs.

County fire dispatchers said they received more than 30 requests for emergency assistance due to trees and power lines down in the San Gabriel Valley.

Similar freak electrical and rainstorms also struck the San Fernando Valley and parts of Ventura County.

The Ventura County rains came to the aid of weary firefighters battling the brush fire near Lake Piru. Fire officials said as a result they were able to declare the fire controlled.

In Los Angeles, the police department at one point reported every unit on duty was swamped with back calls and the fire department said its dispatchers were swamped and engine companies were being assigned to two and three calls at once.

In some sections of Hollywood and central Los Angeles, assistance calls went out as elevators stalled between floors.

Police Bomb a Church

Milwaukee Priest Arrested in Racial March

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Open housing marchers, led by a firebrand priest, were turned back by police tossing tear gas bombs and swinging nightsticks Friday night in their second consecutive night of defiance against a ban on nighttime demonstrations.

Some march leaders said they would strike out on another march in the pre-dawn hours this morning.

Their attempt to mass was hindered by tear gas that filled the church. The church custodian said a tear gas bomb was thrown through a church window and another was tossed into the rectory.

More than 400 followers of Father James E. Groppi, most of them Negroes, were scattered and thrown back minutes after they stepped off from a church yard on the forbidden march.

Father Groppi was at the spearhead of the ranks which stepped off six and eight abreast from the yard of St. Boniface Church in the heart of the north side Negro neighborhood. He was the first man arrested, as he was Thursday night.

ABOUT TWO-DOZEN demonstrators were arrested and hauled off to the police station. Police refused to release a precise arrest count.

Several demonstrators and at least three policemen were injured in the melee that erupted at 12th and Center Streets as Father Groppi and his marchers waded into a cordon of police barring their way.

One policeman placed an armlock around the priest's neck. Two other policemen seized his arms and told him, "Father Groppi, you are being arrested for violation of a proclamation."

The marchers fell back in confusion and regrouped in the yard of St. Boniface.

The marchers, members of the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, began their hike under orders

Polygraph Frees Boy in Slaying

By ART VINSEL

One of two boys held in the rape-murder of a North Long Beach girl — a former casual date apparently linked to the slaying by a bizarre chain of circumstances — was freed Friday night.

Gary L. McKinstry, 19, of 5877 Lemon Ave., was cleared by a lie-detector test of any connection with the slaying, police homicide investigators said.

Still held for investigation of murder is Johnny C. Montano, 19, of 309 E. 57th St., a friend of McKinstry, who surrendered when he learned he was wanted by police.

BOTH YOUTHS were acquainted with Cheryl Ann Raby, 20, of 94 E. Market St., who was raped and stabbed to death in her bed early Wednesday by an intruder.

Witnesses reported seeing two leave the Swan Apartments early on the morning of the murder, and questioning of the victim's friends seemed to center suspicion on McKinstry and Montano.

McKinstry dated Miss Raby several times early this year and worked at Douglas Aircraft Co., as a laborer. The victim was an aircraft assembler at the Douglas plant.

Montano previously had met Officer Pete Downing, a long-time friend of the McKinstry family, and sought out the off-duty juvenile officer at home Thursday when he learned he was wanted.

Surrendering Montano at the booking desk, Downing learned McKinstry — questioned Wednesday night by four plainclothes detectives — also was sought.

Attorneys OK Panel in Surprise

By SHERM WILLIAMS

A grinding week of selecting a Superior Court jury for the Jack Kirschke murder trial ended with dramatic abruptness Friday in Los Angeles when defense and prosecution announced they were satisfied with the six men and six women chosen.

Four alternates are to be chosen Tuesday for the trial, which is expected to last from four to six weeks. Until Friday afternoon's sudden agreement, it had appeared jury selection would last well into next week.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris had used just half of his 20 possible preemptory challenges, and defense attorney Albert C. S. Ramsey had used but eight.

THEN, AT 2:40 p.m., with seven men and five women on the jury, Ramsey—who has been rejecting women—unexpectedly said, "We are satisfied with the jury as presently constituted."

Harris challenged a man on the jury and he was replaced by a woman from La Crescenta. She was questioned by both attorneys and, at 3:10 p.m., Ramsey again said he was satisfied with the jury.

Harris' statement that he, too, was satisfied, was as unexpected as was Ramsey's acceptance.

Judge Kathleen Parker recessed the trial until Tuesday morning when, he said, the alternates will be chosen. Only nine prospective jurors of the initial 50 called into the courtroom remain as prospective alternates.

Acceptance of the jury marked the end of three weeks of special hearings and the jury selection

Giant Ships Go It Alone as Tugboat Officers Strike

The luxury liner SS Oriana was among vessels that gingerly eased in and out of busy harbors Friday as a strike of tugboat officers cut off the traditional maneuvering help of the powerful little craft in the ports of Long Beach and Los Angeles.

Seventy-five members of the Masters, Mates and Pilots Organization shut down two companies that provide tugs for deep-sea shipping.

In sympathy, members of two other tugboat groups — the Inland Boatmen's Union and the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association — honored the picket lines of the MM&P.

About 325 tug crewmen were involved in the shutdown, which all but paralyzed such services in the two harbors.

A spokesman for the strikers said the shutdown appeared sure to last into next week, stating that the tugboat companies indicated they would not join in negotiations until after the holiday weekend. The spokesman said negotiators for the strikers are ready to "meet at any time."

Shipping company sources said only about 15 per cent of vessels entering and leaving the harbor usually use tugboats, and therefore the effect on traffic would not be serious.

The 42,000-ton P&O Lines Oriana, traditionally has used four tugs to aid her in berthing and departure. But Friday the British liner's skipper, Commodore Clifford Edgcombe, brought the Oriana unaided to her berth in Los Angeles Harbor and took her out again Friday evening.

Control of the modern liner was aided by the fact that she is equipped with

TAKE $1,500, TV SETS

Gunmen Rob L.B. Store

Three bandits robbed a downtown Long Beach TV store of more than $1,500 and two portable color TV sets Friday.

They forced a salesman and a repairman to lie on the floor of a storage room as they fled out the back door of Denas' TV Store, 975 Long Beach Blvd.

Officer Robert W. Titus said the trio walked in the store at 4:05 p.m. and asked salesman Kenneth J. Dean, 62, the price of a TV set.

Then, one robber asked to look at a radio locked in a cabinet and Dean walked to a counter to get a key, Titus said.

The bandit stuck a revolver in Dean's ribs and said, "This is a stickup."

A second gunman walked back to the rear of the store and poked his revolver in the back of repairman Ernest W. Baber, 58.

The bandit took $67 from a cash register and told Baber to lie on the floor of a small storage room, Titus said.

Meanwhile, the two robbers in the front of the store forced Dean to open a safe and took $1,500 in cash and checks.

Then, Titus said, they marched Dean to the storage room and told him to join Baber on the floor. They grabbed two $350 color TV sets as they fled.

SAIGON—U.S. troops in South Vietnam were warned today that Viet Cong terrorists have smuggled sabotage devices into towns and cities designed to create havoc on election day Sunday. Urgent notices posted at American billets throughout Saigon and principal cities warned U.S. servicemen against purchasing such items as cigarette lighters, fountain pens, aspirin, candy bars, oil cans and alarm clocks. A military communiqué said the Communist devices "are all rigged to explode when their lids are removed." On the war front, U.S. B52 bombers staged three more raids early today against Communist buildups inside the demilitarized zone. Viet Cong guerrillas sent two to four rocket rounds into the sprawling American air base at Da Nang before dawn today but caused only light damage and no injuries. U.S. warplanes again raked North Vietnam's transportation routes Friday and dropped the Chau Lam highway bridge 24 miles south-southeast of Vinh in the southern panhandle. In Saigon, police reported four more terrorist bombings and shootings that claimed the life of one American soldier and injured nine Vietnamese civilians. The Viet Cong, in a major bid for support on the eve of South Vietnam's elections, announced today a broad political and economic program. It has something for everybody but the Saigon government and the U.S. The program would permit capitalism to carry on with the encouragement of a national union government, parcel out free land to landless peasants, confiscate U.S. and "puppet" property, but guarantee the right to private ownership of production. (Election Analysis Page A-4.)

Oil Embargo Lifted

KHARTOUM, The Sudan — Leaders of 12 Arab nations ended their summit conference Friday by announcing an end to the oil embargo against the U.S. and other Western nations, and declaring their battle with Israel should be fought with political and economic "weapons." In an easing of militant policy, presidents, kings and high officials from 12 Arab states recommended that production of oil for export should be "fully" resumed. The flow of oil to the U.S., Britain, West Germany and other West European nations was halted by the Arab league states during the June war with Israel. Arab leaders pledged in the communiqué to "unify efforts for political action at international and diplomatic levels to bring about withdrawal of Israeli forces" from conquered territory in Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

Gibraltar Referendum Vetoed
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—The U.N. Special Committee on Colonialism resolved Friday that Britain's proposal to let Gibraltar residents choose their political future contradicts a General Assembly call for negotiations on the issue between Britain and Spain. The committee called on Britain and Spain to resume negotiations without delay.

UAW Beefs Up for Long Strike

DETROIT — The United Auto Workers chose Ford Motor Co. as its strike "target" Friday and went into showdown negotiations within hours in hopes of reaching agreement on a new contract. UAW President Walter P. Reuther said the union would beef up its $57-million strike fund in preparation for a long walkout. "We are going to ask the Ford Motor Co. for a large measure of equity," Reuther told a news conference. "If they refuse, then a strike is inescapable." UAW and Ford negotiators met at the Ford central office building in suburban Dearborn to begin the crisis negotiations to head off a possible walkout at midnight next Wednesday. The UAW is shooting for well over $1 billion in wage and fringe benefit gains. Ford has 45 manufacturing plants, 17 assembly plants and 39 parts depots scattered through 100 cities and towns in 27 states.

More Steel Price Boosts

PITTSBURGH — Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Jones & Laughlin Friday joined two other major producers in raising the prices of steel bars despite federal government objections. Bethlehem, the nation's second largest producer, followed the lead of Republic and U.S. Steel, announcing increases of $4 a ton on cold-rolled bars and $3 a ton on hot-rolled bars and semifinished products. Then Jones & Laughlin made the same increases and Kaiser Steel Corp. officials in Oakland announced similar increases. President Johnson said at a news conference Friday he regretted the decision of major steel companies to raise prices, but made clear he was not planning to do anything about it.

Prime Minister Sues Pop Group

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson Friday was granted a court order alleging he was libeled by a British "psychedelic" pop music group that printed a postcard showing a nude drawing of Wilson.

Lawyers for Wilson said an injunction on behalf of the prime minister was granted to restrain the group, called "The Move," from printing, publishing, circulating or distributing a card alleged to be libelous of the prime minister.

The group, from Birmingham, printed the black and white postcards to publicize their latest record, "Flowers in the Rain."

The postcard, which shows a likeness of Wilson sitting nude on a bed, arrived at 10 Downing Street and Wilson took action.

"The Move's" manager, Tony Secunda, said of the postcard, "I got the idea some time ago. I asked a cartoonist to draw the card and send copies to people in the pop world."

"I suppose it is a bit risqué. But it captures the atmosphere of the moment."

Secunda said up to 2,000 postcards were printed and distributed at a total cost of about $28.

"The Move" has achieved a measure of notoriety in the pop world for its violent acts. They have smashed up television sets, furniture and effigies of Adolf Hitler and Wilson on stage.

Activists Hear McKissick

CHICAGO — Floyd McKissick, his voice breaking with emotion, brought a mostly white crowd to a standing ovation Friday as he warned that the problem of the black man in America is "a problem of survival." "We know that this country is capable of genocide," said the fiery leader of the Congress of Racial Equality. "We know what this country did to the Indians. We know that concentration camps are already set up in this country." The concentration camps comment was met with loud applause, but McKissick made no further reference to it. McKissick spoke in the grand ballroom of the Palmer House. His audience consisted of most of the 1,900 delegates and observers to the National Conference for New Politics, a five-day convention providing a forum for activists of the left, peace and civil rights advocates. Before McKissick spoke, Ted Weiss, a city councilman from New York City, called for a 1968 renunciation of President Johnson at the polls. Earlier, Dr. Benjamin Spock, the noted baby doctor, argued that the first job of the convention should be "to organize ourselves as a movement—not necessarily as a party."

Rights Murder Trial Set

JACKSON, Miss. — U.S. Judge Harold Cox Friday set Oct. 9 for the long-delayed trial of 18 white men, including Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, on federal conspiracy charges in the 1964 slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss. The defendants include Sheriff Rainey's chief deputy, Cecil Price, sheriff-elect E. G. (Hop) Barnett and alleged Ku Klux Klan leader Samuel H. Bowers of Laurel. They are charged with conspiracy in the deaths of Andrew Goodman, Michael Schwerner and James Chaney during Mississippi's "long, hot summer" of 1964.

McNamara Will Stay

WASHINGTON — President Johnson said Friday there is no deep division in his administration on the conduct of the war in Vietnam. And he almost snorted at a suggestion Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara might be at the point of resigning. Johnson told a news conference that while there is not complete agreement on everything among himself, McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the military high command, there is a surprising and a very agreeable amount of unanimity, including agreement on all the 300 targets picked for bombing in North Vietnam. Meanwhile, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Friday he believes President Johnson welcomes the expanding movement on Capitol Hill seeking U.N. efforts to bring peace to Vietnam.

Holiday Rush Begins

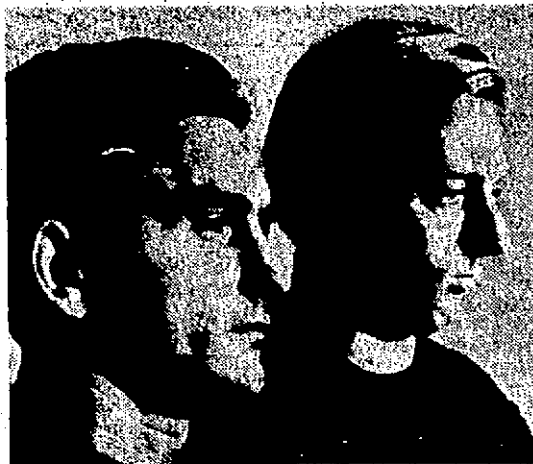

CHICAGO — Automobiles, camping trailers and boat tows clogged the highways late today as millions of Americans set out to enjoy the last long holiday weekend of summer. A forecast of generally pleasant, warm weather stimulated the outpouring of tourists and short-haul funseekers. The National Safety Council, in pleading for cautious motoring, estimated that between 550 and 600 persons might be killed.

Storm Misses Bermuda

MIAMI — Tropical storm Arlene missed Bermuda Friday and bored toward the North Atlantic with 55-mile-an-hour winds. Arlene, which nearly lost its life-giving heat when it met a stronger, colder weather system Wednesday, regained some of its power early Friday.

$25 Million M16 Order

WASHINGTON — The Army gave its much-disputed M16 rifle the highest possible vote of confidence Friday, ordering another $25 million worth from the Colt Co. The $25,871,701 order is for 242,716 additional weapons. This buy, the Army said in response to questions, brings the investment in the light, rapid-firing M16 to $106,198,738 since Pentagon purchases began in November 1963. The M16, which fires a .223-caliber round similar to that used by small-game hunters, was made a standard Army weapon last February. It joined the two-pound-heavier M14. Some congressmen have complained that some troops in Vietnam are dissatisfied with the M16 and that jam-ups had left some soldiers defenseless in battle. But it has been defended by others as an excellent weapon.

ALLAN KUHN (left) and Jack (Murf the Surf) Murphy, who served time for theft of priceless 563-carat Star of India sapphire in New York three years ago, are jailed in Los Angeles for investigation in series of burglaries by what police called "a wholesale invasion by East Coast burglars." The pair also was charged in 1964 with pistol whipping Eva Gabor and a $25,000 jewel robbery.

SETTLED

An attorney for comedian Phyllis Diller said Friday in St. Louis the television performer made an out-of-court settlement with former in-laws permitting her to continue using the terms "Captain Bligh," "The Great White Whale," and "Moby Dick" in her act.

Attorney Rexford H. Caruthers and ex-relatives dropped a $100,000 damage suit as a result of the settlement. Mrs. W. E. Diller, the comedienne's former mother-in-law, and former sister-in-law Jeanne Diller, filed the suit last fall, claiming the terms referred to them.

Miss Diller, a former housewife from suburban Webster Groves, had filed a federal court suit previously to establish that she was not referring to the women. The amount of the cash settlement was not disclosed.

Three workmen plunged 300 feet to their death Friday when a crane tipped over, snapping a cable which held a portable scaffold used to move concrete forms on Mossyrock Dam in Washington State.

The victims had been taking bolts out of the forms to move them up so another height of concrete could be poured. The workmen were near the top of the dam, tallest in the Pacific Northwest. The victims were identified as Dale Rael and John Roth, both of Mossyrock, and Mark Montague, Centralia.

NO PRISON

A 34-year-old man earlier sentenced to 10 years in prison for faking his own drowning to collect insurance and Social Security benefits Friday was placed on probation and fined $2,500 instead.

George Frederick Knoop, Inglewood, had been sentenced to the maximum of 10 years on each of three counts to which he had pleaded guilty. U.S. Judge E. Avery Cray, however, suspended the sentence and put Knoop on five years probation.

Judge John Mowbray dismissed extortion charges Friday against a man accused of threatening to blow up five Las Vegas resort hotels. Charges against Jack Fort Smith, 44, of Dallas, were dismissed after Judge Mowbray confirmed Smith is dying of cancer.

Thurgood Marshall was sworn in Friday as a justice of the Supreme Court and was presented with a Bible by Justice Hugo L. Black, who officiated.

Marshall, the great-grandson of a slave and the first Negro to serve on the nation's highest court, took the "constitutional" oath in a private ceremony held in Black's office at the Supreme Court building. "I sorta got sworn in," Sunnew justice told a reporter when word of the secret session seeped out. All smiles, Marshall, 59, said he will begin work in his new job next Tuesday.

Also Friday, Paul R. Ignatius was sworn in as secretary of the Navy. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara gave the oath to his former assistant secretary of Defense for installations.

ILYA EHRENBURG, patriarch of Soviet letters and herald of the post-Stalin "thaw," died in Moscow at age of 76. A Jew, he rallied Jewish support for Stalin in World War II, was an apologist for Stalin, then criticized the dictator after his death and went on to tangle successfully with Khrushchev.

DISSENTER

Vladimir Bukovsky, a 26-year-old poet, was sentenced in Moscow Friday to three years loss of freedom for leading a demonstration demanding free speech, an informed source said. Two colleagues were put on probation at the end of a three-day closed trial. They were Vadim Delone, a 19-year-old who has published a few poems, and Yevgeny Kushev, 20, an unpublished poet.

The three were arrested in January for protesting the earlier arrests of several Soviet writers, who circulated in the Moscow literary underground works that authorities labeled anti-Soviet.

UNFOUNDED

The State Department said Friday that the Soviet explanation for expelling two American diplomats from Moscow was unfounded. The charge that R. Dabney Chapman and Brice K. Meeker were engaged in activities incompatible with their diplomatic status "has no basis in fact," press officer Carl Barch said.

The Soviet action, he said, "is clearly designed as a means of retaliation for our move last week against two Soviet diplomats who were directly implicated in a case involving conspiracy to deliver national defense information to the Soviet government."

Roman City
Ruins Found
in N. Africa

ROME (UPI) — The ruins of a large Roman city, apparently an important seaport, commercial and industrial city, has been found on the north African coast 61 miles east of Tunis, it was reported Friday.

The ruins were discovered during a systematic search of the Tunisian coastline. For over 18 centuries, the ruins had been covered by windswept sand.

Archaeologists said they had unearthed enough to tell them that it was an unusually large city. The most important find so far is a huge arch at the entrance of the city. Each of its four sides is 25 feet long and it is about the same height.

Ground was broken last week for the $30,000 clubhouse on Farlow Street, a block east of Claretta Avenue.

The 59-by-90-foot frame and stucco structure, of Hawaiian design, will include a 50-by-60-foot auditorium, kitchen, rest rooms and storage facilities. The auditorium will accommodate 450 persons for meetings and 300 for banquets, according to Arthur Nagle, club president.

In addition to filling the needs for meetings and other club activities, the new clubhouse will be available for lease to individuals and community groups for banquets and meetings, Nagle said.

The building is scheduled for completion before the Christmas holidays. Members of the building committee include Lee Ware, Jack Leaf, Raymond Eggering and Marvin Gunnison, who is the general contractor.

Recreation Classes

Registration will begin Wednesday for Westminster's fall recreation program which will include classes in mosaics, paper mache, judo, flower making. Application may be made at the city recreation and parks department.

THE WEATHER BUREAU hasn't offered explanation whether there's any connection between a Hopi Eagle rain dance performed Friday morning by three Indians and Southland scattered lightningstorms and thundershowers. Cherokee Chief "Iron Eyes" Cody, his son Arthur and Sioux Richard Little performed the dance in full feathered costumes at Los Angeles City Council chambers. Event was staged to dramatize city's birthday celebration which will include Indian Fair next Friday at Devonshire Downs.

Heavy Rain
Helps Quell
Piru Blaze
4-Installment Tax
May Come in 1968

Torrential rains, triggered by a severe electrical storm, Friday helped firemen quell a five-day-old brush fire that blackened almost 4,000 acres of watershed and caused extensive damage to oil field equipment near Piru in Ventura County.

The Piru fire was the last major blaze to erupt this week in tinder-dry Southern California. A 6,000-acre blaze in the Castaic area was controlled earlier.

No deaths or serious injuries were reported from these or a series of lesser blazes that struck the Southland in a prolonged wave of desert-spawned, oven-temperature heat that continues to plague the Pacific Southwest section of the nation.

BUT IN THE oil field, a number of huge storage tanks were wrecked and drilling towers and rigs were destroyed by flames or damaged beyond repair, officials said.

Although the thunderstorms helped fire fighters — particularly in the Angeles and Los Padres national forests — another peril is imminent.

"There have been so many lightning strikes that lookouts haven't been able to keep track of them all," a U.S. Forest Service spokesman noted.

This means some of the weary fire fighters must be kept on lightning alert after being released from the brush fires. Most have been moved to high elevations in Angeles National Forest, where fires can be spotted quickly and quelled.

And even before the last embers of the Piru and Castaic blazes were quashed, extensive plans were being mapped for aerial and ground reseeding to head off possible floods from approaching fall-winter rains.

Los Angeles County property owners will someday pay their taxes in four easier installments—but it won't happen for a year or more.

Chief Administrative Officer Lindon S. Hollinger informed the Board of Supervisors that a bill passed by the State Legislature gives the county authority to make quarterly instead of semiannual collections.

But since the law is not effective until Nov. 8, Hollinger explained it would be impossible to put it into effect this year.

Hollinger said there is a possibility the plan could be implemented next fiscal year, 1968-69, but that "more probably" it cannot be operational until 1969-70.

Under the bill, taxes may be paid in equal installments falling due on Oct. 10, Jan. 10, March 10 and May 10. At present, taxpayers must pay the first installment by Dec. 10 and the second by April 10.

Hollinger pointed out the plan cannot be put into effect until new computer equipment is full installed in the assessor's office.

In addition, he said, the 186 tax-levying jurisdictions for which the county collects taxes will have to move back their budget procedures one month, so that tax rates can be set Aug. 1 instead of the present Sept. 1.

Hollinger predicted that cities, school districts and other agencies would cooperate with the installment plan because it would bring in tax money earlier in the fiscal year.

At present, many local governments have to borrow or juggle funds during the "dry period" before receipts arrive in December.

INDICT 2 AS AGENTS
IN BUSINESS SPYING

Grand Jury indictments, charging two Long Beach-area men with acting as double agents in an industrial espionage intrigue led to their surrender Friday in Los Angeles Superior Court.

They are Wilfred DeMeule, 41, of 5541 Elmhurst Road, Palos Verdes Estates, and Michael B. Gercey, 45, of 4712 Merrill St., Torrance.

Bail was originally $15,000 each, but Judge Richard Schauer reduced bond to $3,500 for Gercey and $2,500 for DeMeule.

Each is indicted on charges of conspiracy, burglary, grand theft and receiving stolen property as the result of a patent feud between Dynapower Systems, Inc. of Santa Monica and a New York firm.

Both defendants allegedly offered Dynapower business secrets to Diapulse Corp. of New York City whose president reportedly agreed to pay $50,000 for them.

Dynapower offices were burglarized April 22, at which time New York industrialist Jesse Ross reportedly canceled the deal with DeMeule by telephone.

DeMeule then went to Dynapower President William D. Kendall, 64, a former British member of parliament, and offered to return the records for $5,000 and pin theft on Ross for $20,000 more.

DeMeule and Gercey are former Dynapower salesmen.

Labor Day Crowds Defy Weather

The year's record crowds are expected to swarm Southland beaches, mountains and desert-resort areas this Labor Day weekend, despite threatening skies from lingering thunderstorms that already have produced weather fireworks. Lifeguard officials are braced for a million or more surfers, bathers and just plain beach loungers — most seeking respite from torrid heat and soaking humidity that have plagued

Southern California for more than a month. The before-school holiday throngs of students, with and without adult escort, prompted officials to place extra guards at beaches and full forces of law-enforcement officers on duty at possible trouble spots, including highways. With all but essential government and business offices closed until Tuesday, outdoor sports and entertainment events girded for capacity audiences. A prime attraction today is a festival in Los Angeles Harbor as part of the celebration of the city's 186th birthday.

Featured festival activities include free harbor boat tours, with many private boat owners participating. Tours were to be available from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. from the ferry building at the foot of Sixth Street in San Pedro. Free parking was available south of the San Pedro end of the Vincent Thomas Bridge.

On shore, the Consolidated Marine Terminal was to be a center of festivities lasting 12 hours and starting with folk dancing starting at 10 a.m.

The Ft. MacArthur Army Band will be heard in afternoon concert, starting at 1 p.m., followed by a fashion show at 2 o'clock and special ceremonies involving L.A. city officials at 3.

At the Matson Terminal, the destroyer USS Henderson and the minesweeper USS Firm were to be open for public inspection from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Berths 195 and 196. Dance groups and an art exhibit were planned at the Matson Terminal from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

An air-sea rescue demonstration by the U.S. Coast Guard is planned for 1 p.m. off the Matson Terminal, and fireboat demonstrations were planned throughout the day.

Driver Pleas
No Contest to Drunk Count

Eldon J. Thibado, 60-year old truck driver accused of hitting a small girl on a tricycle with his car and then striking her with his hand, pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to a charge of felony drunken driving Friday in Long Beach Superior Court.

Judge Donald Dunbar set a probation and sentence hearing for Oct. 11.

Thibado was arrested after the accident at Redondo Avenue and 11th Street May 23 in which Debbie Ann Smith, four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Charlene Berendregt of 111 Euclid Ave., suffered a severe skull fracture.

The Oriana, carrying 1,835 passengers and with 1,000 crewmen, was making a regularly scheduled call at Los Angeles en route from England to Australia.

Harbor pilots said Friday night they have no indication that ships are delaying entry to the harbors or passing up calls for lack of tug service.

One of the arrivals Friday, the Italian freighter Integritas, remained at anchor in the outer harbor, where she took on bunker fuel, and then sailed.

One huge vessel due at 10 a.m. today is the 48,485-ton super tanker Lake Palourde. However, she is also scheduled only for bunker fuel and has no cargo to discharge or receive, port authorities said. Thus, the tanker also will be able to avoid the difficult operation of coming unaided alongside a pier.

The tug strike is against the San Pedro Tugboat Co. and the Wilmington Transportation Co. There are other tug companies but they are regularly in the business of barge and ocean towing, rather than serving ships in harbor.

The strike is the first since 1959, when the tugboat crews stayed out five months.

The sinking vessel, owned by Joseph Truelove of Los Angeles, appeared to be held aloft by an air-pocket in the cabin, the Coast Guard said.

The Coast Guard cutter Pt. Stewart towed the cruiser to Terminal Island, where it was boosted aloft with a sling to let sea water drain.

A Torrance man was rescued Friday from his fast-sinking 40-foot cabin cruiser by a Navy vessel two miles off Pt. Fermin.

The Coast Guard said only the cabin top was above the water as they towed The Duet to a Terminal Island shipyard an hour later.

The boat's operator, Jack Parrish of 22410 Marjorie St. was taken aboard an 80-foot Coast Guard cutter at 3:30 p.m.

Vetoes Aid to Retired

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan Friday vetoed a bill by Assembly Republican leader Robert Monagan which would have provided a cost-of-living pension increase for 17,000 retired state employees.

Monagan said he would introduce a similar bill in January.

The bill would have provided boosts ranging from 2 to 10 per cent for retired workers. It would have been the first pension adjustment since 1961.

The bill would have a cost a total of $2.5 million, with about $1.5 million coming from the general fund.

Monagan said Reagan assured him he would provide for a pension boost in his budget next year.

How It Feels to Be Quizzed in Murder of Your Friend

Heat lightning flickered outside, as perspiring Gary McKinstry told how it feels to be accused of the rape-murder of a girl you remember fondly.

"It was really shocking. I was afraid," said the student barber, sitting at his kitchen table. "I was afraid."

"I was especially afraid last night, when the cops came to my cell and read my constitutional rights," McKinstry recalled.

"I asked if they found anything in the apartment and when one of them said, 'Yeah, a lot,' I thought maybe someone had planted something, and they'd hang it on me."

McKinstry said he last saw pretty, petite Cheryl Ann Raby several months ago, after she had moved into an apartment 18 blocks from his own.

"She was doing all right for herself," said McKinstry, who met Cheryl through friends and double-dated with her a few times, going to movies and parties.

"The first time I found out about it," he added, "my sister-in-law met me when I came home from work and said: 'Cheryl's dead, somebody murdered her.'"

"It's a terrible thing. That's about all I can say," McKinstry added quietly, "except that I didn't do it."

Recalling the girl, he said she was always neat, clean, cheerful and full of fun.

"She was the respectable type of girl," he said. "She was really different."

He never spoke her name.

Late Friday afternoon, Gary Lee McKinstry, Booking Number 529 451, Long Beach City Jail, "Investigation of Murder," asked if he could go home. Detectives told him to go.

"Some of the guys and girls are going down to see her tonight," he commented, "to order flowers and all that."

Cheryl Ann Raby's funeral is today at 11 a.m. in Sunnyside Memorial Park Chapel.

"Are you going to the funeral with them?" he was asked.

He seemed at a loss to describe the decorum demanded by an awkward, yet irrevocable shadow which must now set him apart among Cheryl Ann Raby's other friends.

"I..." he said, pausing, "don't think it would be too wise."

PSYCHOLOGISTS CLAIM

Financial Losses Curb to Smoking

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — It is easier to make people stop smoking by threatening their pocketbooks than stressing the threat to health, according to a study by two Dartmouth College psychologists.

In an experiment with 25 persons, including 20 Dartmouth undergraduates, 84 per cent stopped smoking during the three-to-four month experiments and 37.5 per cent have not returned to their habit since.

Thomas J. Tighe and Rogers Elliott, the psychologists, said in a paper presented to the American Psychological Association convention Friday that although many persons want to quit smoking, "they are not persistently exposed to the hazards of smoking."

In their experiment, the pair posed a persistent hazard by making volunteers put $50 into a pool in the beginning. If a volunteer smoked, the immediately lost the money, if he abstained for two days, he got back $10. Two weeks later, if he still hadn't smoked, he received $10 more.

"Thus, by betting money in an amount large enough to make its loss painful, he added to the general, but distant and often vague threat to health, an immediate, clearly defined and persisting aversive consequence of smoking during the treatment," they reported.

The volunteers all had smoked from one-half to two-and-one-half packs of cigarettes per day and had been smoking for two to 18 years.

They were required to sign a statement pledging that they would not smoke for 12 weeks. They also pledged to pay the $50, read an article on the effects of smoking on health and allow their names to be printed in the student newspaper.

The experimenters said they depended on the honor of the volunteers to report violations, but "reinforced it" by making the experiment public.

The volunteers were in two groups. In one group, 12 of 14 abstained for the full 12 weeks and received all their money back. In the second, 9 out of 11 also abstained for the full period.

The two psychologists said their success rate in the experiment was higher than for most other experiments using varied techniques to make volunteers quit smoking.

"There seems little doubt that the program used here was an effective aid in breaking the cigarette habit," they said.

Kirschke Jury Gets Accepted

preceding the actual trial itself. It now seems likely testimony will begin Wednesday.

THE JURY includes two post office clerks, a power switchboard operator, an accountant's wife, and a draftsman.

In addition to the 18 peremptory challenges exercised by the attorneys, Judge Parker excused 10 prospective jurors for various reasons, including opposition to the death penalty, and one woman's statement that she had become prejudiced as a result of a story in a Los Angeles newspaper she had read Friday morning.

Kirschke is charged with the murders of his wife, fashion designer Elaine Terry Kirschke, and a male companion, Orville William Drankhan, last April 8. Their bullet-pierced bodies were found in the Kirschke apartment in the Naples section of Long Beach.

Police Gas Church in Milwaukee

they were to be arrested if possible.

"We want everybody arrested," Father Groppi told them as they prepared to step off.

"Sit down on the sidewalk if you have to. We had 134 arrested last night. Tonight we want 234 or 334."

The clash left marchers strewn on the streets, gasping for breath. Several complained they were struck by police nightsticks. A demonstrator hurled a "Keep Off the Grass" sign at police.

Groppi said that civil rights leaders Dr. Martin Luther King and Dick Gregory would be on hand for a rally Saturday night. He said the gathering would probably be followed by a march, but he did not say whether it would be another expedition into white neighborhoods.

Polygraph Frees Boy in Slaying

and notified McKinstry, who went along, rather than wait for a patrol car and uniformed officers.

After being booked, Officers John P. Trout and Gary Leming returned to search McKinstry's apartment, and reportedly found torn bed clothing and a wash cloth, both stained with blood.

A pair of blue denim trousers also appeared to be smeared with blood around the knee area, investigators said.

The pillow case bloodstains turned out to be the result of McKinstry's bleeding as he slept, following the extraction of two wisdom teeth several days earlier, police said.

Homicide Sgt. Dave Bauer said the polygraph test also supported McKinstry's story that he was at home asleep when Miss Raby was raped and murdered.

The lanky, long-legged youth was freed shortly after 4 p.m. and told an interviewer he believed the red-dish trouser stains came from tacky paint, where his knees rubbed the dashboard of his brother's red car.

Sgt. Bauer said questioning of Montano reached only preliminary stages Friday, because most of the time was spent quizzing McKinstry.

He probably will be held over the Labor Day weekend, pending completion of interrogation, possibility of a polygraph test, and disposition of charges.

Homeowners Slate Fire Hazard Talk

Common fire hazards at home and at work will be the subject of a talk at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the monthly meeting of the Dominguez Hills Homeowners Assn.

Capt. Clyde Ewing of the Los Angeles County Fire Department will be the speaker. The group meets at Leapwood Avenue School.

SPECIAL SESSION BONUS GOP Gets Chance to Show Power

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's decision Friday to call a special session of the legislature had special political significance in that it will give Senate Republicans a chance to exercise their newly obtained control of the upper house and possibly try to oust the veteran Democratic leader, President pro tem Hugh M. Burns of Fresno.

Gov. Reagan called the session to correct a technical local school districts $145 million additional in state aid, the governor's office said.

The Republican governor plans to sign the proclamation today, setting the session for next week, an aide to Reagan said. It will be held concurrently with the five-day long veto session opening Monday.

Nineteen of the GOP senators decided at a closed caucus in Los Angeles Thursday night to make an attempt to unseat Burns.

The election of Republican Judge Milton Marks of San Francisco to the Senate in a special election last month, taking the seat formerly held by a Democrat, gives the Republicans a 20-20 party tie with the Democrats.

The swing vote, in cases of a 20-20 tie, is that of Republican Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, who has said that he would vote with the GOP if there was a serious attempt to unseat Burns.

Medi-Cal Benefits Cut Despite Court Order

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A temporary court order halting cuts in the state's Medi-Cal benefits failed to prevent cancellation of services Friday in at least two California counties.

The Sacramento County Welfare Department reported that it is carrying out the state's cutback order and has received no instructions to the contrary.

The Stanislaus County Welfare Department also was rejecting patients' claims for eyeglasses, false teeth, preventive care, certain drugs and other services eliminated in the cuts.

On Thursday a Sacramento judge upheld the temporary order restraining the state from proceeding with the cutbacks, scheduled to begin Friday, the first day of September.

However, a spokesman for the Sacramento Welfare Office said the state's letter announcing the cuts was sent Aug. 17. He explained that the county so far has denied $91,000 in requests for dental benefits.

The payments were denied before Sept. 1 because the services would have extended beyond that cutoff date, the representative said.

"We will continue to deny the services," he said. "We have no alternative."

He said the department has received no order from the state to delay the cutbacks.

Spencer Williams, state health and welfare administrator, said the cuts were necessary to meet a deficit of some $200 million in the medical care program for the needy and stay within a $600 million limit set by the legislature.

Presiding Judge Elvin F. Sheehy of the Sacramento Superior Court issued the temporary restraining order earlier this week. The action was requested by Sheldon Greene, head of the California Rural Assistance League's Modesto office. A hearing is scheduled next Wednesday.

CIVILIANS VS. MILITARY

Viet Elections Won't End Internal Power Struggle

By R. W. APPLE JR.
New York Times Service

SAIGON — No matter who wins Sunday's presidential and senatorial elections in South Vietnam, the seeds of tension and discord will have been sown.

Diplomats and political analysts are agreed that while the electoral campaign has established a long-overdue communication between the country's leaders and its masses, it has done little to produce a rapprochement or even an understanding among the wielders of power.

If, as is expected by virtually everyone, the military ticket wins, the greatest danger will be that its two leaders, wed by shotgun, will permit their personal disaffection to burst into open political hostility.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chief of state and military presidential nominee, and Air Vice Marshall Nguyen Cao Ky, premier and Thieu's running mate, have managed to stay together for two years under pressure from their fellow generals; but the campaign has exacerbated their differences.

The conflicts are the talk of Saigon: How Thieu announced that he favored a bombing pause and Ky said that he didn't agree at all; How they failed to appear together at any official campaign function; How Ky's friends said Thieu was "lazy and not aggressive enough," and Thieu's supporters described the premier as "that adolescent."

Ky's camp continues to spread the word that the premier will be the dominant figure in the new administration; Thieu's friends—and his past record—argue that he is unlikely to surrender his new power meekly.

The showdown may never come, because the other generals have demonstrated in the last two years that they want the army to stay together. But the tensions will color Vietnamese politics for months to come if the military slate wins.

A second potential problem, however, is represented by the new legislature. There are at least five senatorial tickets believed to be pledged to Ky, and three loyal to Thieu. Which ones are elected could have a large impact on the strength of the president.

Fullerton Begins Graduate Work in Mass Media

A new graduate program leading to a master of arts degree in communication is being offered at California State College at Fullerton.

The 30-unit program, first of its kind in the state college system, climaxes two years of work by communication department faculty. It is designed for those involved in newspapers and television, as well as governmental, communication and teaching.

The unwieldy system of electing senators — in which poorly educated peasants will be asked to choose 6 of 48 ballots that will be handed to them — suggests that the composition of the senate may be random.

It is conceivable that an upper house hostile to the president could be chosen and almost certain that something less than a homogeneous body will be elected. Thus, legislative-executive tensions could be a major factor.

A third problem, in the event of a Thieu victory, will be the course decided upon by the defeated civilians.

Thich Tri Quang, the militant Buddhist monk, has told visitors in recent weeks that they can expect "an explosive three months" following the halting — a clear indication that he hopes to organize antigovernment disturbances.

Some of the civilian nominees have suggested that they will take a military victory as evidence that the election has been rigged. Leading civilian candidate, Tran Van Huong, has not gone that far but has indicated he will be in no mood to cooperate with the generals.

If enough of the civilians cry "foul" and urge support of a new struggle movement, Tri Quang, who now appears to lack both the issue and the manpower to stage a successful uprising, might conceivably be handed both.

Finally, if one of the civilians wins, the prospects of trouble will be even more serious in the view of experienced officials here.

"It will be very hard for the generals to learn to live with an elected civilian regime," one of Huong's managers said the other day. "Even with the best will in the world, there will be months of tension as the strings of power are sorted out."

The American embassy has discounted repeated statements by Ky that he might stage a coup if the elected government does not "meet the aspirations of the people." The embassy says it "hopes" the generals would step aside gracefully.

Union Rejects 'Final' ABC-NBC Proposals

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)

— Union negotiators for 3,000 employees of the ABC and NBC radio and television networks Friday rejected last-ditch offer from the companies and said they were advising their members to stand by to initiate strike action.

Edward Lynch, chairman of the negotiating committee for the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians, AFL CIO, said the companies' proposals were found "to be defective in a number of specific areas and generally inadequate to meet the needs of our membership."

"We are advising the federal mediator that the companies' proposals in their present form are unacceptable and will not be recommended or submitted to the membership," Lynch said.

"Unless the management of NBC and ABC make significant adjustments in the deficient areas of their proposals — and make them forthwith — a nationwide strike call will be issued," he said.

Tim O'Sullivan, a member of the negotiating committee, said the companies' 140-page proposals were submitted to the union team at 9:30 p.m. Thursday, 2½ hours before the old contract expired.

Network employees remained on the job, working without a contract, during the day.

Terms of the network offer were not disclosed, but NABET is seeking a pay base of $275 a week for its 3,000 members, who now are paid from $218 to $230.

Kids Find $19,635 in the Woods

CHAMBLEE, Ga. (AP)

Five children playing in a woods near here Friday afternoon found a suitcase full of money — $19,635.51.

The money — in bills, silver, travelers' checks and a treasury bond — is part of the loot from the July 27 robbery of the Bank of Gray, according to Police Chief Lewis B. Samples of nearby Doraville.

Samples said the youngsters opened the suitcase and ran to tell one of the children's mother, Mrs. James D. Ledbetter.

"It was like a circus around here," said Mrs. Ledbetter, "with all the kids yelling 'we're rich' and 'finders keepers, losers weepers.'"

She said she thought the ecstatic children "must be kidding," but sent a neighbor, 14-year-old Alan Lee White to check. The boy and the children brought the suitcase back to the house, and Mrs. Ledbetter called the police.

10 Schools Getting New Principals

Ten elementary and intermediate schools in the Garden Grove Unified District will have new principals when classes get under way Sept. 11.

Shifts in administrators bring Prescott Jones to Edgar School from Zeyen School, Hal Porter to Hazard School from Lincoln School, Mrs. Nina Decker to Lincoln School from Dolg Intermediate School.

Harold Blythe to Parkview School from Morningside School teaching assignment, Edward Raphael to Skylark School from a Torrance elementary school assignment, Brian Shipway to Wakeham School from Warren School, Michael Lombardi to Warren School from a teaching assignment at Hazard School.

Also, David Jewell to Zeyen School from Parkview School, Rod McClain to Dolg Intermediate School from Wakeham School, and Ivan Kapsner to Hare Intermediate School from Skylark School.

L.B. SERVICES FOR SLAIN TROOPER

PFC. CARAMELLA

Graveside military services for a young Long Beach paratrooper, killed in Vietnam combat Aug. 25, will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Sunnyside Mausoleum, 1500 E. San Antonio Drive.

Army Pfc. Paul D. Caramella, 19, of the 101st Airborne Division, was a week away from a scheduled rest and recreation leave when he was killed, according to a letter received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Caramella, of 1601 Hackett Ave.

The youthful soldier, a 1966 graduate of Poly High School, was president of his senior class at Stephens Junior High School and student body president one term. At Poly he was a pole vaulter on the school track team.

In addition to his parents, survivors include two brothers, Craig and Robert Jr.; sister, Lee, and grandfather, Hector Caramella.

L.B. Postal Workers to Demonstrate

As many as 60 Long Beach postal workers were to demonstrate today in front of the main Post Office, protesting a 4.5 per cent pay raise which is far below their expectations.

Members of the Long Beach Postal Union said they would picket the facility at Third Street and Long Beach Boulevard from 10 a.m. to noon, officials said.

THE PROTEST is one conducted by 500 affiliates of the National Postal Union, which has been staging a "round-the-clock" postal vigil at the White House in Washington this week.

Keystone of the drive is "Keep It, Mr. President," in response to the administration insistence that postal and federal employees be held to a 4.5 per cent pay increase.

The National Postal Union, representing the 60,000 of the nation's 700,000 postal workers, has branded the proposed increase pitifully low.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Rick Murphy, 13, of 805 S. Cinda St., and Hayden Leadford, 13 of 806 S. Cinda St., were picked up by a sheriff's helicopter and flown to Buckhorn Ranger station.

Both boys, who became separated from fellow members of Anaheim Troop 56 Thursday on Silver Moccasin Trail between Buckhorn Flats and Little Jimmy Canyon, are in good shape.

PUBLIC DEDICATION

Two newly-constructed hospitals at the Long Beach Veterans Administration medical complex will be formally dedicated Sunday, Oct. 1, according to Dr. James Giotfelty, director.

The public is invited to attend the ceremonies, commencing at 2 p.m.

An 11-story general medical and surgical hospital, under construction two years, already has been dubbed "The Tower" by some of those who have observed its rise. The project cost $10.5 million. The other is a 240-bed psychiatric facility.

The VA medical complex will now have nearly 1,700 beds, affording hospital care to an estimated 15,000 disabled war veterans annually, Dr. Giotfelty said.

Group Halts Civic Project

By BARBARA KNESIS

Plans for a $700,000 La Palma civic center came to a screeching stop Friday as a newly formed citizens group prepares to circulate an initiative petition that, if approved, would prohibit lease-back financing for the project.

City Manager Burton Weisenberg said the civic center corporation will not proceed with the proposed project "until the City Council has a better knowledge of the electorate."

That knowledge could come at an information meeting called by the city fathers for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the J. F. Kennedy High School.

Up until two weeks ago, plans for the 22,000-square-foot center had been moving along smoothly. A civic center corporation had been formed, and it looked like the project would go to bid early next month.

Then entered the Voter Rights Committee. Headed by Mrs. Ervin Mitchell, the citizens group protested that the lease-back method bypassed the people who should have a say in a project of this magnitude.

"First we heard the center was going to cost $400,000. Then between $500,000 and $600,000 and now $700,000. They could go as high as $1.5 million and there isn't anything we could do about it," she said. "We the people have a right to decide whether we want the civic center at all and how much we want to pay for it," she said.

The angry chairman then filed notice with city hall that she intended to circulate an initiative petition that would ban lease-back projects forever in the city of La Palma.

Defending the lease-back method, Weisenberg said that La Palma does not have sufficient funds under the state authorized indebtedness ceiling to float the necessary $600,000 because of a $1.7 million water bond election in 1965.

"We would have to go for something less than half if we went the route of general obligation bonds," he said.

Countered Mrs. Mitchell: "What in the world does a city of 5,000 need with a $700,000 civic center. I grant you we need a city hall but not a Taj Mahal."

Melodyland Seeking a Bold, Bare Front

Anaheim's Melodyland theater-in-the-round sued Friday to upset an Anaheim ordinance banning the display of the female breast in stage productions.

The theater asked Santa Ana Superior Court to invalidate a city ordinance adopted May 11, requiring entertainers "to wear clothing or attire which conceals any portion of the female breasts below the areola thereof, and any portions of the public areas or sexual organs."

Melodyland producers

contended that the city ordinance is unconstitutional because the state has preempted the enforcement field, and they claimed that the State Supreme Court has upheld the state's statutes.

Any local ordinances are invalid because they "attempt to impose additional requirements," the theater contended.

Melodyland said it has booked an elaborate Paris-type revue for the theater Oct. 26, and has committed $250,000 to promote the production.

Anaheim threat to prohibit the production would work "irreparable damage" to the producers, it was claimed in the plea for injunction.

Superior Court Judge Herbert L. Herlands set Sept. 22 at 2 p.m. for hearing arguments in Santa Ana.

Melodyland planned "Vive les Girls" last December, and the city threatened November 16 to ban the production because models would parade bare-breasted on the stage. A compromise agreement was worked out, forbidding such shows for a year unless the City Council approved.

SHE SAID $300,000 could build La Palma the kind of a city hall it needed and other facilities could be added as the city grew.

Mrs. Mitchell said she did not think she would have any difficulty getting signatures from the necessary 15 per cent of La Palma's approximate 1000 registered voters to put the lease-back question on a ballot.

The center, to be located on a 3.5 acre site on Walker Street north of La Palma Avenue, is to include council chambers, administrative offices, police station with minimum security overnight jail, future fire station, public works office and storage and county branch library.

Gardena's Wooden Nickels Good As Gold—For Some

It's strictly a gimmick, but Gardena's "Wooden Nickel Days" has taken the city by storm.

"It's so successful that we've had inquiries from Chambers of Commerce across the country," beamed Tad Uyemura, vice president of the Gardena chamber and chairman of the three-week drive to bolster business.

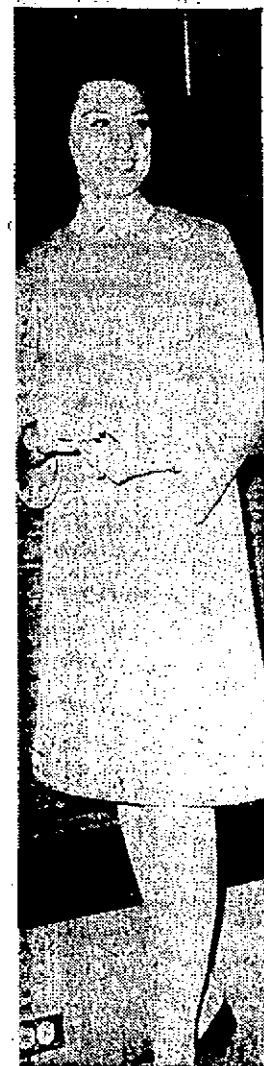

Throughout Gardena and neighboring communities, an estimated 53,000 wooden nickels, each bearing a number, are in circulation. Until the event winds up Sept. 10, nickel holders hope to match their nickels with numbers posted in the stores of local merchants.

Winners will receive merchandise prizes, and grand winner gets a trip for two to Hawaii.

"As far as we know," Uyemura said, "it's the first promotion of its kind on the West Coast. And it really works."

Chamber spokesmen said the increase in business had justified their work on the project, and added it well may become an annual event.

HONORED

Pam Pall, 20, of Norwalk was honored this week when Mayor Pete Fogarty presented her with a proclamation and ring. Miss Pall, who attended Cerritos College, was named Miss USA-World last month in Baltimore. She will compete in November for the international title in London.

Polite Thief Robs Rossmoor Bank

A plump, middle-aged bandit wearing a dark gray business suit robbed Rossmoor Center bank of more than $1,500 Friday afternoon.

Seal Beach police Lt. Al Chafe said the neatly dressed robber walked in a side door at Crocker-Citizens Bank, 12331 Los Almitos Blvd., carrying a small, beige-colored bag at 2:20 p.m.

He unzipped the bag on the counter in front of teller Shirley M. Harrell, 26, and pulled out a gun and a note, police said.

"Give me all your money, especially the large bills," the bandit said politely.

The teller, who told police she did not read the note, placed several hundred dollars on the counter.

THE BANDIT craned his head over the counter and spotted more currency in the cash drawer. "Give me that, too," he said.

Then, Lt. Chafe said, the robber tucked the money, the note and the gun in the bag, zipped it up and walked back out the side door. The teller pulled a silent robbery alarm to summon police.

No one else in the bank knew a robbery was in progress until the bandit exited, officers said.

Lt. Chafe said the stick-up was similar to a $1,000 holdup at the Security First National Bank, Westminster, on Aug. 14.

Trial of Jerry Wayne Clymore, 33, who is accused of robbing a Fourth Street liquor store June 9, has been continued to Oct. 10 in Long Beach Superior Court.

Clymore, of 520 Lime Ave. was shot in the neck by the proprietor of the store, Arch L. Jenkins, 58, as he fled with $247 he had taken from a customer.

Jenkins said he and the customers, William McCaffrey, 42, of Los Angeles, had been forced by Clymore to lie on the floor of the store. As Clymore ran out, Jenkins grabbed a .25-caliber pistol from a drawer and fired twice, hitting Clymore in the neck with his first shot.

Construction Volume Dips but Still Ahead of '66 Pace

Although construction volume for Long Beach last month was slightly under the August 1966 figure, valuation for 1967 still is running well ahead of last year.

As of Aug. 31, building permits had been issued for $60,219,192 worth of construction, as compared to $55,353,290 in the like period of 1966.

apartment buildings, containing 16 units and valued at $167,950.

The permits also included a $284,000 hospital unit, two recreation buildings valued at $125,000, and a $51,500 industrial building.

Few New Workers—Still Quick

Although the Long Beach Water Department is serving nearly twice as many customers as it did 20 years ago, it is doing so with only seven more employees than it had in 1946, General Manager Brennan S. Thomas reported Friday.

Okanogan Captain to Skipper 'Forge'

The outgoing skipper of the attack transport USS Okanogan will not have to leave his Palos Verdes home for his next command.

CAPT. PAUL E. PAYNE

Capt. Paul E. Payne's next assignment will be commanding officer of the amphibious assault carrier USS Valley Forge. He is due to assume those duties from Capt. Charles H. Carr from Capt. Charles H. Carr.

CAPT. ROBERT C. MAY

OKANOGAN'S new skipper is Capt. Robert C. May of Lakewood, who has had earlier duty in Long Beach as commanding officer of the destroyer USS Hollister.

The change of command was made Friday at Long Beach Naval Station.

Capt. Payne had two deployments to Vietnam during his 14½ months in command. The ship carried elements of two Marine battalions and served as station ship for the Naval Support Activity, Da Nang, from December 1966 through March 1967.

After leaving the Hollister, Capt. May was assigned as commanding officer, enlisted personnel, and officer-in-charge, Camp Tien Sha, at Da Nang for the past year.

Attorney Theft Hearing Slated

Probation and sentence hearing for John L. Kaesman, 36-year-old Long Beach attorney charged with grand theft of money belonging to a client has been continued until Sept. 29. Kaesman pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to the charge July 24.

He was accused of taking $6,000 belonging to a client, Miss Lorella R. Ackerman, 22, of 1026 Hellman Ave.

L.B. Destroyer Open to Public

Open warship at Long Beach Naval Station today and Sunday is the destroyer USS Maddox.

The ship will be open from 1 to 4 p.m. both days at Pier 16. Women visitors are urged to wear flat shoes.

Blowing Own Horn Is One Way to Get Ahead in L.B.

Sometimes a man has to blow his own horn if he wants to get anywhere.

For instance, the city is seeking a French horn player for the Long Beach Municipal Band.

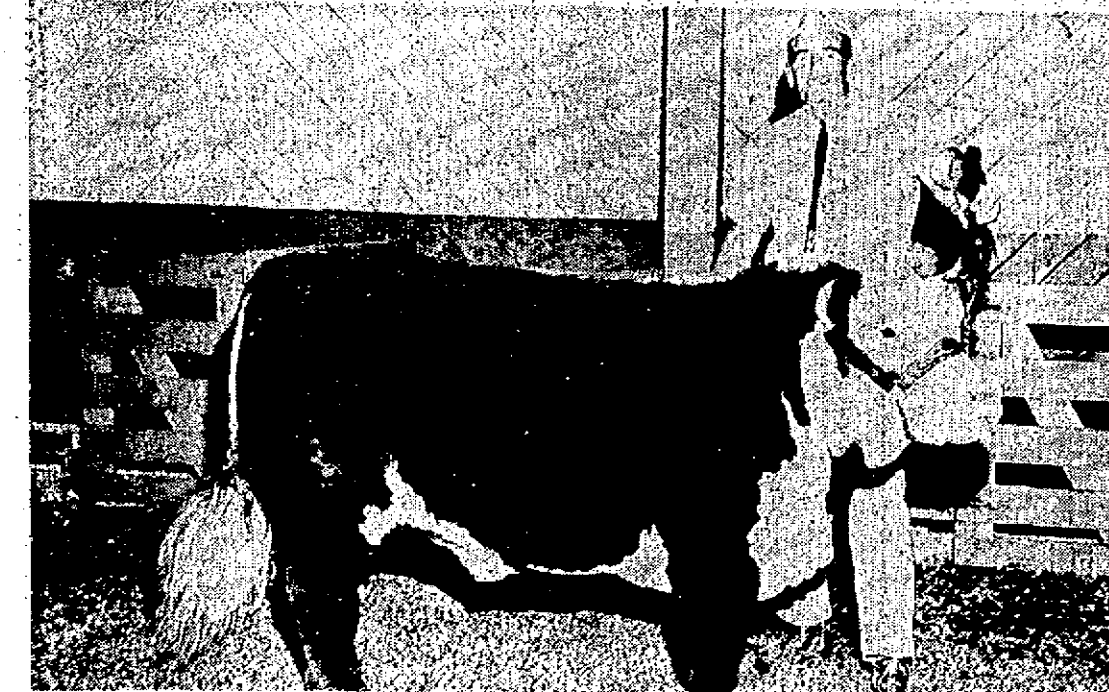

Applications will be accepted by the Civil Service Board through next Wednesday and an examination will be held Tuesday, Sept. 12, in the office of the bandmaster, 19 Cedar Ave.

The position with the band pays $457 to $564 monthly.

The city also is seeking typist-clerks and junior examiners.

The typist-clerk jobs pay a monthly salary range of $351 to $433. Applications will be accepted through Thursday. Junior examiners are paid $610 to $754 monthly, and applications may be made through Sept. 18.

Information on these and other city jobs may be obtained from the Civil Service Board, Room 332, Municipal Utilities Building, 215 W. Broadway.

BUCKY BENNETT of Long Beach shows off his grand champion steer during annual California State Fair. He also won awards for reserve champion hereford and champion female hereford.

COWS AND KICKOFFS

Prize Beef Man a Gridder

Bucky Bennett's back in town after California State Fair officials in Sacramento almost had to "hogtie" the grand champion beef grower from Long Beach.

Bennett, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bennett, 1227 E. Ocean Blvd., was so anxious to try out for the Long Beach City College football team that officials had to promise an early flight home to persuade him to stay for Thursday night's awards presentation.

"I was only an hour late for practice," Bucky said Friday.

When fair officials told Bucky his 943-pound steer, Sully, was the big winner, they also asked him to stick around for some of the post-fair festivities.

He reluctantly decided to stay, but said he really had to move fast trying to make the 8:30 a.m. drills Friday.

"I think coach Paul Chafe actually was surprised to see me," said Bucky. "Someone was supposed to call for me and explain this situation."

Bucky — a 220-pound, 6-foot-2 tackle — claims he wasn't at his best for practice.

"The first day was tiring . . . let's just say I've had better days."

The grand championship was a first for Bucky. He raised the state reserve champion hereford in 1964 and state champion female hereford in 63.

Bucky and his parents moved from Porterville, a farm town 45 miles north of Bakersfield, last year.

INDEPENDENT PRESS TELEGRAM—B-3

Week's Wall Street Trend

[illegible]

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Editor

With H. DE LA CHAPELLE
With Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted a small gain this week in the lowest volume of the year for a full five-day week.

Brokers expressed the opinion that investors were holding to the sidelines in advance of the long holiday weekend to see what transpires after Labor Day, a port of New Year's for business and finance.

There was uncertainty about an automobile strike, which could begin next Wednesday night if no contract agreement is reached, the Vietnam war and the outlook for an income tax increase.

On the brighter side as far as investors were concerned were price increases in the steel industry and other basic industries.

For the week The Associated Press 60-stock average rose 3.2 to 334.7. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials advanced 7.11 to 901.18.

Of 1,599 issues traded during the week, 1,020 advanced and 449 declined.

Volume slowed to 36,141,080 shares from 43,127,710 the previous week.

The market registered little gains in lackadaisical sessions Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"At least temporarily the market has lost trader interest and it may not be easily recaptured," an investment analyst commented. "No follow through comes on the feeble attempts at rallies, and the market has run out of leadership."

The market burst out of the doldrums on Thursday and mounted a vigorous rally in heavier trading. Brokers called it a technical snapback.

On Friday the market returned to its listless pattern and managed a small gain.

During early August the Dow Jones industrial and the AP 60 stock average reached their 1967 peaks in very heavy trading.

The high volume swamped brokerage houses with paperwork they were unable to keep up with. To give brokers more time for clerical chores and to hold down trading, the New York Stock Exchange, the American Stock Exchange and four regional exchanges lopped off 90 minutes from trading sessions on nine days.

With the market having gone significantly down the past four sessions along the 883 DJI level — the recent recovery represents normal technical sequence. The rise is expected to run into trouble, however, along 909-912. Another factor that undoubtedly has helped sentiment are the rails which have been going up — for more than a week. More often than not; divergences at major and intermediate high or low points, even minor points, presage a market turn. They are always worth watching.

Should there be any additional selling tests on the downside following exhaustion of the current rally, it may be observed 885-875 marks a level of stout support. The possibility does exist the DJI could decline into this area because the advance decline index, which led all the way down and broke 908 some time before the Dow did, has come to a level analogous to 880 DJI. Such possibly decline in the Dow would no doubt provide many attractive buying opportunities looking ahead into early 1968.

RELATIVE STRENGTH has continued in most of the stocks selected for purchase in periods of market stress — especially Chrysler, Cyprus, Dupont, Motorola, Texas Gulf Sulphur (2nd quarter earnings up 110 per cent from year ago), General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, United Fruit and Sears Roebuck. . . on AMEX, National Video acts well and continues to point higher and Syntex just emerging from an extended (3 month) base 92-80 should be a purchase on trading setbacks for possibly 100-105 . . . GM; target for the UAW, has recently developed relative weakness and has broken below nearterm support. The new support level is 80-78.

Recently strong stocks that would appear interesting for intermediate and/or long term purposes whenever the market makes bottoms, are: Parke Davis, Union Oil of California, Magnavox, Whirlpool, General Cigar and Borden — with a classically potent saucer base. Among smaller stocks Libby McNeil and Helene Curtis appear to be building powerful bases. Fairchild Hiller looks interesting on all dips.

BIG NAMES did not fare so well in the spare of second quarter earnings reports. Even many of the glamorous growth stocks, selling on a high multiple basis reported disappointing earnings gains, or slightly lower results. To the lowly and humble belonged the laurels. For example, R. Hoe & Co. earnings showed a gain of almost 160 per cent as against second quarter 1966, Monarch Machine Tool 140 per cent, Gulf Resources 134 per cent, Fugua Industries 116 per cent, Welch Scientific 100 per cent, Williams Bros. 72 per cent, Microwave 66 per cent, Colt Industries 65 per cent, Raymond International 61 per cent, United Nuclear 54 per cent, Hydrometals 50 per cent, Chris-Craft and Fansteel 47 per cent, Lucky Stores 42 per cent and Signal Oil and Gas 37 per cent. A few big names, however, fell into this category such as Texas Gulf Sulphur up 110 per cent and Foremost-McKesson 75 per cent. (The foregoing were selected from a list of 2nd quarter reports appearing in Indicator Digest 8-22).

The above tells the story of today's stock market. Since the October bottom the Dow Industrials have been up almost 25 per cent and the S&P about 33 per cent, the NYSE Composite about 32 per cent, the OTC Industrial about 71 per cent and the AMEX about 79 per cent. New trails are being blazed.

Why They Don't Bother the Corps in Hong Kong

By LES RODNEY

From the vantage point of the Salvation Army's chief of staff, second in command of the corps internationally, the world looks deeply disturbed — and excitingly challenging.

Which figures. A movement that grew out of urgent impatience with the Victorian church's failure to move out to the downtrodden unchurched has no time for moody ponderings on the state of nations. It has things to do. People to reach and help.

Interviewed at the Pacific Coast Club after his arrival from London for the climactic weekend of the 10th annual Southern California Camp Meetings in the Long Beach Municipal

Women Will Hear of Rural Legal Help

H. Michael Bennett, administrator of California Rural Legal Assistance, will be the guest speaker at the meeting Thursday of the Women's Fellowship of First Congregational Church, at Third Street and Cedar Avenue.

A statewide law firm funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity, the organization provides top-notch legal services to farm workers, and the rural poor in particular, those who would be unable to afford it.

Among cases they have handled and won were the overhauling of a water system, resulting in 80 per cent cut in rates and purification of the water, a test case for benefits to unemployed farm workers, a challenge to the State Constitution's English literacy voting requirement which disbars many Spanish-speaking citizens not fluent in English.

The luncheon meeting opens at 10:30 a.m. All interested women are invited to contact Mrs. Raymond A. Sites, president of the church group.

Auditorium, Commissioner Erik Wickberg made no attempt to minimize the sorry state of the globe.

"It's a troubled world. One only has to look around. Now there is Hong Kong. I left there some weeks ago, just before this latest trouble broke out." He shook his head from side to side. "I don't know what will happen there. Nobody is certain."

However, he went on, Salvation Army work goes on full tilt in the teeming British Crown Colony which sits on the edge of massive Red China.

"IT'S A remarkable thing," the commissioner commented. "None of our people have been hurt, and there's been no interference with their work. Everybody knows we are popular with the people there."

The major thrust of that work may surprise some people who still think of the Salvation Army only as earnest evangelists marching down the street, thumping the drum on the street corner, and collecting things for the needy.

The Corps does all those things with undiminished fervor. But its most-talked about work in Hong Kong is education — modern, professional education.

"I visited one Corps school in Hong Kong with 5,200 pupils," Commissioner Wickberg said. "This is typical. We have moved into the Walled City, where there is much poverty, and have day schools operating."

"What we are doing there is helping children who are backward — that is, who ordinarily would be unlikely to receive a good education. Our schools are fully qualified and approved by the government."

A tall, bespectacled man of Swedish birth who gives the dual impression of inner serenity and focused purposefulness, the commissioner made clear that education ranks well up in today's Salvation Army approach to an every-changing world.

"Take Africa," he continued. "The people in these new African countries can only be described as hungry for education. They are terribly eager to learn."

In the Congo alone, he said, there are 20,000 pupils in Corps schools.

"The new governments are very keen on quality education. We've brought home some of our people, university-trained educators, mind you, to prepare to meet the highest requirements."

He sat back a moment. "They have been backward so long, you see. The Western world owes them what it can do to help in this."

WESTERN Territorial Commander William J. Parkins, sitting in on the chat, interjected on the question of education what one leading overseas Salvationist had said: "We are no longer giving them a fish to eat, but are giving them the means to catch their own fish."

Commissioner Wickberg nodded. "Exactly. This is a central concept of our work."

In this country, it was suggested, there is some controversy about what should be the boundaries of church work in the non-spiritual side of life. How does the Salvation Army feel about its education work, for example, in light of this difference of opin-

Aged Cardinals Out?

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Rumors spread in the Vatican Friday that all of the aged cardinals of the Curia-central government of the Roman Catholic Church—would submit their resignations by the end of the year.

The rumors said the Curia's archconservative, 78-year-old, half-blind Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, had offered to quit on Thursday but that Pope Paul asked him to stay on "for the time being."

COMMISSIONER AND MRS. WICKBERG

berg felt the need to touch on one little-appreciated fact he had personally learned there.

"Actually," he said, "you discover that various parts of Africa are as different from each other as are the various countries of Europe."

Formerly the commander in Germany, among other assignments, the commissioner noted that the division of that country had hurt the Corps seriously. "We had been very strong in East Germany. Now we are barred."

The Wall stopped East Berliners from coming over to attend Salvation rallies.

The ban on the Corps holds throughout the "Iron Curtain" countries.

"In the Soviet Union, you'll see the Baptists and others doing work, with restrictions of course, but they are there," the Salvationist leader said. "We are completely forbidden." The Satellite countries followed suit.

Why? He smiled. "Well, there's the uniform, you know, as a starter. They wouldn't like that. They wouldn't approve of open air meetings, either."

"Some things are changing for the better there, however. Perhaps in another 20 years, we'll see. I'm not too optimistic about the Salvation Army working in Russia, but one never knows."

AS A denomination in its own right, the Salvation Army, he said, belongs to the World Council of Churches.

"We have our reservations on quite a few things about the Council," he said. We feel we have and will continue to have our own special role and mission. But we are in the Council, and we should be. We must be with and show friendship with all those who work sincerely through Christ, the Saviour, and this is the credo of the Council."

in this and so many other countries — today's youth:

"I'm hopeful," the commissioner said. "I believe that behind all the extreme behavior is a longing for good, a longing for God. But young people will not be reached by the old terminology, they won't listen to it. We go to meet them. With their kind of music as a starter, in England particularly."

He chuckled. "I am rather appalled by some of the songs, I must say I personally don't think much of them. Buy my daughter thinks that music is quite good."

A Corps ensemble named the Joy Strings is a rage in Britain, he said, with tunes in the top 10. "They are very talented, they write their own tunes, with religious words, but in the beat the young people like. You know, there are many Christians and potential Christians who do not go to church. You have to go to them."

The Corps, he added, "continues, of course, our traditional, popular brass bands. And our string ensembles in Scandinavia."

But nobody in Old England knocks the Joy Strings.

Commissioner Wickberg is here with his wife, though they are not seeing too much of each other, since as international president of the Salvation Army, Girl Guards and world president of the Nurses' Fellowship, Mrs. Commissioner Wickberg has her own schedule very much cut out for her.

Commissioner Wickberg will speak at the final free music-studded rallies in the Auditorium tonight at 7:30 and Sunday at 3 and 7:30 p.m.

CONFIDENT LIVING

Try These 12 Magic Principles

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

It is possible to get on top of worry, depression and other negative emotions. Some have found that it is. A way that has proved successful for many is the use of 12 magic principles, magic because of the amazing way they work.

These dynamic principles were announced by psychologist Dr. Henry Knight Miller. I have passed these along to many defeated people who learned the secret of victorious living through their application. I am sure they can produce results for anyone who really tries them.

It is possible to do little more than suggest them, in the limited space of this column, but even a fragmentary statement will give you the general idea. Their proper use can help you gain freedom from those deadly destroyers, the negative emotions.

1. Think health, talk health, act health and you will go a long way toward being healthy — provided, of course, you observe the common laws of body control.

2. Be an actor, acting love instead of hate. What you act tends to become fact.

3. Shift your attention deliberately from the thing you are worrying about. The mind can only occupy itself with the object of its attention. So give attention to faith, not to worry.

THE SECOND trilogy of principles continues.

4. Cultivate opposites. If fearful cultivate courage. If weak cultivate strength. If gloomy cultivate joy. Act "as if" and you tend to become that — the opposite of what you are.

5. Rationalize your worries, hates, jealousies. Put them on the dissecting table ruthlessly take them apart. You'll find there is very little substance to them.

6. Get a sense of the perspective of time and distance. How little our great worries seem, how unimportant our resentments, in the years after.

The next three principles are also vital ones.

7. Cultivate optimism. Always look on the bright side. Keep the mouth lines up. Smile and be happy. William James claimed that we are happy because we smile rather than we smile because we are happy. In other words, the smile comes first. Well, maybe so, but it's still a fact that happiness in the heart puts a smile on the lips. If you cultivate optimism you are likely to develop a happy state of life.

8. Don't talk trouble. It only activates more of it. Talk life up, not down.

Talking tends to create for it puts the immense power of thought to work. Don't practice negative auto-suggestion by the use of destructive words. Always remember Emerson's warning that a word is alive. It can be repeated use either create or destroy.

And the final three principles: 9. Develop exocentric versus Ego-centric interests. Forget yourself, lose yourself in the great exciting world. One of the greatest of all laws is that he who forgets himself really finds himself. When you get outside your little restrictive self-world you grow bigger in the larger world.

10. Superimpose the positive on the negative. When a negative thought comes, practice cancelling it with a positive thought and affirmation. Enough of this and you will become positive in your attitudes.

11. Practice great affirmations like: "Life is good." "I believe." "People are wonderful." "God loves me." Such affirmations lift you into the area of infinite power. Affirmations tend to reproduce in kind.

12. Assert and dwell on your Divine origin. Say to yourself every day, especially when things get dark and trouble stares you in the face, "I am a child of God." Doing this will perk you up for you will realize that whatsoever comes you have Someone watching over you and helping you.

ARE THESE twelve life principles practical or theoretical? Well a letter received from a 41-year-old engineer says: "When you suggested those principles in response to the troubles I was having, frankly, I couldn't help regarding them as well-meaning but impractical advice. But I simply had to find relief and a new way of life, my doctor had warned me that I was heading for a crack-up. As an engineer it has been my training to work with scientific formula so I decided to work with these principles on that basis.

"It wasn't easy for I was a very negative person, but the more I worked at this 12-point formula the more I found myself getting on top of things. I cannot begin to tell you how wonderfully different life is now. I wouldn't have believed it possible. Believe me I'm sticking with the 12 magic principles."

That man found answers that answer. Work, really work, with creative spiritual principles and you get creative results.

ANY MAN'S DEATH DIMINISHES ME
BECAUSE I AM INVOLVED IN MANKIND.

John Donne, 1624

Dr. James W. Turpin lives by these words for, as founder and president of Project Concern, a nonprofit international medical relief organization, he has dedicated his life to mankind.

Born in Ashland, Ky., Jim learned Christian living early in life as he accompanied his grandfather, a doctor, on his visits to his patients in the surrounding hills. After studying theology for a year, he switched to medicine. Today, like his grandfather, he is visiting his patients in the hills, but they are the hill people of South Vietnam instead of Kentucky. Project Concern was incorporated in November, 1961, in California, and by September, 1962, had established three outpatient clinics in Hong Kong. Dr. Turpin moved into South Vietnam in June, 1964. He has a staff of a hundred doctors, dentists, nurses and technicians, representing 20 countries and every major religion in the world.

By his side, physically when possible and always spiritually, is his wife Molly. She is entering Women's Medical College in Philadelphia in September "so that we can work together."

Back in the United States to receive the Freedom Leadership Medal from the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., Dr. Turpin said of Vietnam, "We can win the war but lose the people."

Grove Friends Get Theologian

Dr. Glenn F. O'Neal, professor of practical theology at Talbot Theological Seminary, will assume part time duties as minister of preaching Sunday at Alamo Friends Church, 12211 Magnolia Ave., Garden Grove.

The church will continue its search for a full time pastor to replace Rev. Paul E. Shugart, who moved to East Whittier Friends.

End Prissiness to Counter 'New Morality'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
(AP) Religious Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In some devout households in grandfather's day, the Bible that rested on the living room shelf had certain sections of pages glued firmly together—to protect the innocent from bluntly sexual passages.

But things have changed. Today, sex is an open subject in the churches, as it is in Scriptures, with greatly increased attention being given to it in an effort to provide sound guidance in an age of veering sex influences — and attitudes.

Modern culture has flooded youth "with sexual symbols and erotic stimuli that give a distorted view of sexuality in the meaning of a person's life," says Rev. Dr. Richard Evenson, of Minneapolis, parish education director of the American Lutheran Church.

Outlining new sex education materials being issued by the denomination for young people, he said that present-day conditions have put an urgent obligation on churches to provide forthright teaching in that field.

AMERICAN Roman Catholicism, through its Family Life Bureau, also recently disclosed plans for a wide-scale program of sex education for use in homes, schools and parishes.

"We have a particularly challenging responsibility facing us," said Rev. James McHugh, the bureau's director.

The 5 Senses, Vexing Old Marriage Problem

We are indebted to a reader for this challenging "final" final examination posed for graduating seniors of the University of Indiana at their baccalaureate ceremony by Rabbi Maurice Davis of Indianapolis.

The rabbi, asked the class whether they could, or would, pass a final examination of their five senses if these were the questions:

"Can you see the tears on somebody else's cheek?"

"Can you hear the sob in somebody else's throat?"

"Can you smell the smell of poverty in somebody else's home?"

"Can you taste the bitterness in somebody else's life?"

"Can you feel the trembling in somebody else's hand?"

"And if you cannot no matter how 20-20 your vision, it needs revision."

Rabbi Davis pointed out that primitive man used his senses for protection, while modern man, without that need, now uses them for pleasure.

"I suggest to you," he said, "that there is another use to which we can put our five senses, to use them to discover the oneness of mankind. It is for this your education has prepared you."

"The world out there has many needs. It does not need another generation whose senses are alert to danger only."

It does not need another generation whose senses are attuned to pleasure only.

"It does need a generation whose senses are enlisted in the search ... the search to find each other, to stand with and to understand each other," he concluded. "It is the search to find a oneness with God."

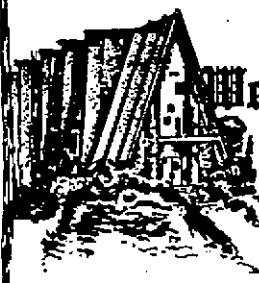

PARISHIONERS at the New Lothrop, Mich. Methodist church were asked to suit their attire to the occasion when they go to church Sunday, the day before Labor Day. Meaning work-clothes. The sermon topic—"Labor."

That could be a tricky precedent. What if the sermon topic for the following Sunday at New Lothrop Methodist were announced as "Adam and Eve?"

INTRODUCING 'CHURCH HUMOR'

With this issue, the religion pages of the Independent Press-Telegram begin "Church Humor," a bright new weekly cartoon feature, which is winning chuckles across the country.

Created by Leo Canavan, who has published a best-selling anthology of his varied cartoons, and has been art director for the past 11 years of a Denver advertising agency, Church Humor plays no favorites in poking gentle and good-natured fun at the light side of church happenings and religion in general. The cartoons make the distinction of laughing with persons of all religions, never at them.

WCC REBUFS RUSS ON MIDDLE EAST

HERAKLION, CRETE — The Central committee of the World Council of Churches by an overwhelming vote adopted a statement on the Middle East calling for free access to the holy places under assurance of international guarantees.

The statement of the 100-member policy-making body further urged that the limitation date be extended substantially so that refugees can return to their homes on the west bank of the Jordan. It also declared that "no nation should be allowed to keep or annex the territory of another by armed force and that this applies to the present situation."

The vote on the statement came after more than one hour of efforts on the part of the Russian Orthodox Church delegation to offer amendments that would establish withdrawal of Israeli troops from occupied Arab territories as a pre-condition for many of the points or principles contained in the statement.

Five amendments toward this end were offered by the Russian representatives. All were heavily opposed.

Found Spain Worse Than Russia for Adventists

A New Zealand Seventh-day Adventist evangelist, visiting southern California this week says he believes the American concept of Russian restriction of religion may be overplayed, and that of Spain underplayed.

Pastor A. David Currie, 32, of Invercargill, New Zealand, is nearing the end of an around-the-world tour which began six months ago.

"I found a considerable degree of religious freedom among the three Seventh-day Adventist congregations I visited in Moscow, Kiev and Leningrad," Pastor Currie said in an interview.

"In Moscow some 300 members attended Wednesday night prayer meeting, and more than 500 crowded the church where I spoke at Kiev on Saturday morning. Scores of young people attended, many of them small children."

"These churches are allowed to have visitors and the visitors are allowed to speak if invited. I spoke at the Moscow and Kiev services, for more than two and a half hours on the Sabbath day in Kiev," noted Pastor Currie. "The Russian people have also been told that the Bible will be printed and made available to them within this year."

In contrast to the openness of the Russian worship services, the visiting churchman found Spain "a country which really needs our prayers."

"The religious liberty situation in Spain, despite recent well-meaning efforts by some government leaders, remains difficult for Protestant churches."

Today, he said all members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Spain will observe a day of fasting and prayer in behalf of young Rubin Esteban, confined in a tiny prison room for refusing to bear arms.

CHIEFS' COACH IMPRESSED

Rams 'Just Keep Coming'

"I knew the Rams were good, but I didn't realize they were that good," Mike Garrett said as he peeled off his uniform following Kansas City's 44-24 licking in the Coliseum.

"We blew the game open in the second quarter and then they did. The fans must have loved it," the former USC Trojan said.

K.C. coach Hank Stram also was a believer in the Rams' defense, but he tried to sidestep any comparison of L.A. and the Packers.

"I don't want to get involved in comparison of L.A. and the Packers.

"I don't want to get involved in comparing the two teams. Maybe the Rams are a tiny bit stronger. They have the same type personnel and the same approach to the game as Green Bay," Stram admitted.

"They just keep coming at you. One thing I couldn't get over was how well Gabriel passed," said Stram. "We didn't realize he was that accurate. He had all the time in the world to pass while our pass protection broke down the second half.

Stram felt Gabriel's third-and-one call really hurt. Their next touchdown also came easy. Our man actually lost the ball when the pass was thrown short. We just made too many mistakes."

Allen said he made some defensive alignments at halftime which negated Beathard's rollouts. "Jack Pardee and Maxie Baughan guarded the outside so well that Beathard couldn't hurt us.

"We gave the game ball to Rosie Grier. He will be operated on tomorrow for a torn achilles tendon," Allen said. "This probably will keep him out for the rest of the season."

Grier was with 1:19 left in the half and had to be carried off the field on a stretcher. Dave Cahill took over his defensive slot and turned in a superb job.

SMITH TELLS JAPANESE NEGROES MISTREATED

TOKYO (UPI) — Negro sprinter Tommie Smith of San Jose State castigated U.S. race relations in an interview with the Kyodo News Agency of Japan Friday.

Smith, competing in the Tokyo World University Games, said U.S. discrimination against Negroes was "lousy" and particularly unfair in view of the Negro contribution to American sports.

"You must think that the number of gold medals the U.S. has won in the Olympic Games and international events were mostly done by Negroes," Smith was quoted as saying.

HE SAID DISCRIMINATION exists in his home state of California not only against Negroes but against Orientals as well.

Smith wound up his interview with the agency by predicting that American relations would eventually improve.

Smith placed second in the 100-meter dash finals Thursday night here, losing to Gaoussou Kone of the Ivory Coast.

leading Boston Red Sox trounced the Chicago White Sox, 10-2, and gave Jose Santiago his eighth victory of the season.

Harrison, who came to the Red Sox from Kansas City less than two weeks ago, paced Boston's 13-hit attack against loser Gary Peters and two relievers.

A large part of another overflow Fenway Park crowd of 34,054 twice broke into a chant of "Stan-ky is a bum" though the White Sox manager made only one appearance on the field to object to a call at second base.

The Red Sox jumped on Peters for seven runs on eight hits in the first two innings to hand him his eighth loss in 23 decisions.

Mike Andrews beat out an infield hit and Jerry Adair singled to touch off a four-run first inning rally. The pair both stole as Carl Yastrzemski struck out and George Scott hit into a fielder's choice for the first run. Harrison then tripled for two runs and scored on Rico Petrocelli's single.

In the second inning, Andrews singled, Adair doubled and a run scored as Yastrzemski's pop-up landed in short center for a single. A wild pitch advanced both runners and Reggie Smith singled to chase home two more.

Harrison blasted his 11th home run off reliever Wilbur Wood in the fifth.

GRIER DUE FOR SURGERY

Rosey Grier, one of the Rams' famed defensive linemen, suffered a torn Achilles tendon in his right heel in the second period of the game against Kansas City Friday night and may be out for the season.

Grier will undergo surgery this morning and more definite information then will be available on his condition, according to a Rams spokesman.

Dodgers' Miller Feared Lost

By GEORGE LEDERER Staff Writer

ATLANTA — Bob Miller, a red-hot pitcher since July 4, had his right hand packed in ice Friday night and may be through for the season.

"If it isn't broken, I'm the strongest human being on earth," said Miller, a 6-4 winner over the Braves with 5-2-3 scoreless innings in relief.

The final out of the game was the most painful of Miller's career. Tito Francona hit a line drive to the mound and Miller stopped it with the knuckles of his

73,990 See Rams Erupt Late, 44-24

By AL LARSON

Who's afraid of the big bad Chiefs?

Certainly not the Rams' muscular gladiators, who handed Kansas City its most humiliating defeat in its eight-year history, 44-24, in their Summer Bowl encounter before a bulging Coliseum crowd of 73,990 Friday night.

Never before had the Chiefs given up so many points as the National Football League exerted its authority for the ninth time in 12 meetings with AFL rivals this season.

The last time the Chiefs appeared in the Coliseum 63,036 Super Bowl fans watched Green Bay roust out since 75,461 sat in on the Baltimore game in 1960 loved every minute of it, excluding a 7-minute span in the second period when K.C. overcame a 13-10 deficit to spurt ahead, 24-13.

The Rams were the darlings of the figure filberts, also winning the statistical battle for total yardage, 400 to 289.

Gabriel fired three touchdown passes, two of the sensational variety to Jack Snow, while Les Josephson continued to make Dick Bass wonder where he will fit into the Rams' backfield.

Josephson pounded away for 128 yards on 19 carries, scoring once on a nifty 55-yard gallop and again on a one-yard pass from Gabriel. Bass sat out the festivities for the fifth successive week but will finally see his first action next Saturday night when the Rams meet San Francisco in their final exhibition tuneup.

Pete Beathard, whose start was something of a surprise, also fired three touchdown passes, but he was victimized by four interceptions which finally halted the Chiefs' mission of rubbing out their Super Bowl loss nearly eight months ago.

On the second play of the game, Claude Crabb picked off a Beathard pass and returned it 11 yards to set up the Rams' first touchdown. Josie capped the 29-yard march by clutching Gabriel's one-yard dart.

Rallying Angels Win on Error in Ninth, 4-3

By ROSS NEWHAN

In the lobby of the Grand Hotel Friday afternoon, the two new Angels, Bobby Locke and Leo Rodriguez, ran across Sam McDowell.

"Hi Sam," said Locke. "You remember me. You know, Bobby Locke. I'd like you to meet Leo Rodriguez."

Introductions were brief. McDowell returned to his room and the 19-year-old Rodriguez turned to Locke, mustering his best English to ask:

"Bobby, who Sam McDowell?"

They were to meet again several hours later at the Big A and this time it was McDowell who posed the question. Asked Sudden Sam: "Who the hell are Rodriguez and Locke?"

Aurelio Ituarte Rodriguez rocked a double off McDowell to set up two Angel runs and Lawrence Donald Locke gained the victory when the Angels rallied in the ninth to capture a 4-3 thriller from Cleveland.

McDowell (11-12) watched disgustedly from the dugout as Tony Horton's error with the bases loaded permitted the winning run to score after Hawk Taylor and Bobby Knoop had smashed significant singles and Don Mincher and John Werhas drew key walks.

It was 3-3, the bases loaded, one out and Rodriguez on deck as Joe Adcock trudged to the mound to relieve McDowell, who went into the ninth with a five-hitter and a 3-2 lead.

Adcock had a righthander and lefthander warming up in the bullpen and he demonstrated his respect for Rodriguez by bringing on Stan Williams, fully aware that Jimmie Hall sat on the Angel bench.

In came ex-Dodger Williams, up came ex-Twin Hall and drawn-in on the infield grass was ex-Red Sox first baseman Horton.

Hall answered Adcock's dreams: He grounded crisply to Horton. A double play? Horton in his eagerness kicked the ball. Retriever, his throw home was late as Clyde Wright, running for Taylor, danced across the plate.

Emulating her actions of Wednesday night, Dame Fortune had again saved the last dance for the Angels.

The funeral dirge has become a march and the Angels, 11-17 in August, are undefeated in September.

"A streak," boomed Bill Rigney. "Eight in a row, here we come."

It's a long road back, farther, say, than from Sonoma to Anaheim which Rodriguez traveled in two years.

The first stop was El Paso where he hit 327. The second was Seattle where he hit 304.

He required six swings before hitting the ball Friday night. He took three of them in the first inning, striking out against the swift McDowell, who has struckout 1,059 others.

On his second swing in the third inning, young Rodriguez got himself a foul. He rammed the next pitch for a double and McDowell was so unnerved that a wild pitch and a double by Jim Fregosi ensued, providing the Angels with two runs.

Prior to the ninth, however, McDowell had more trouble with the Indians than Angels. Cleveland refuse to make it easy for him, collecting 14 hits, stranding 12.

Curt Simmons yielded eight of the hits and two of the runs and left in the fifth. Horton, who had three of Cleveland's hits, drove home the go-ahead run off Minnie Rojas in the seventh.

Of the four Angel pitchers, only Locke retired the side in order. The 33-year-old veteran, who led the

On July 4, Miller was almost in oblivion. His record was 1-6 and his ERA 6.46. There were stretches of more than a week when Miller didn't get a call.

Suddenly, he began to pitch as he did last September, when his 1.80 ERA in a dozen appearances had much to do with the Dodgers' pennant surge. In 17 outings and 31 1-3 innings since July 4, Miller has allowed only seven runs for an ERA of 2.03.

"The last month and a half might be the best I've ever pitched," said Miller.

FILLIES IN $25,000 RACE Del Mar Debutante Lures Field of Nine

DEL MAR — Nine of the fastest 2-year-old fillies on the West Coast, headed by Time To Leave and Windsor Honey, will tangle in today's 17th running of the $25,000-added Del Mar Debutante at six furlongs.

Time To Leave, a swift daughter of Father John, won her last start at the seaside course in a brilliant 1:09 2-5 for six furlongs. The race was so impressive that she was made a supplementary entrant at a fee of $2,500.

Time To Leave also won the Junior Miss Stakes. Regular jockey Dean Hall will be in the saddle and Time To Leave has drawn the outside post position.

Windsor Honey ran away from her opposition in her last outing, coasting to an easy four-length victory in a rapid 1:09 4-5. Trainer Jerry Fanning changed her equipment that day, adding blinkers, and it appeared that she was made a supplementary entrant at a fee of $2,500.

Shaker's Beau, who hasn't been worse than third in his last eleven outings, outgamed favored Mack Jac in the stretch Friday to win the featured $3,000 Rancho Bernardo Day Purse before 7,003 windswept onlookers.

With jockey Donald Pierce in the boot, the New Mexico-bred Shaker's Beau tallied by a half-length, with Mack Jac 1 1/2 lengths ahead of third-place Blacklaws in the field of eight sprinters.

Shaker's Beau rewarded his backers with $7.60, $3.20 and $2.60. Mack Jac, the 3-2 choice with Jack Robinson in the saddle, returned $3.20 and $2.80 and Blacklaws, a 45-1 longshot, paid $6.40.

20th Victory for Perkins Sets Mark

HOLLYWOOD PARK — Fourteen-year-old Jerry Perkins, in his last year of racing at Hollywood Park, etched his name into the Western Harness record book Friday afternoon.

With a crowd of 7,664 watching, Jerry Perkins stormed down the middle of the track to win Friday's second race by nearly two lengths, the 20th time he has found the winner's circle during a Western Harness meeting.

That is the all-time WHRA record, one more than the 19 won by Newport Buell and Wayzac. For Jerry Perkins, it also was his third win of the 1967 season, the first horse to earn that distinction at the meeting.

Veteran Charley Short drove Jerry Perkins in the race for the $1,500 claimers, and as the $520 favorite completed a $40.80 daily double, that was started by Andy's Dream, $12.20 winner of the first race.

Bills Snookums, a four-year-old who had been racing with Bob Farrington's second string at Latonia, Ky., made it eight wins in 10 starts this year by capturing the featured $2,500 Azusa Trot.

Content to sit in fourth place as Dapper Hill cut out the early fractions, Farrington pulled Bills Snookums out for the stretch drive and he was going away at the wire, victorious by a length in 2:04 3-5 over a track that was a couple of seconds slower than usual.
